Speaker - Attorney Dave Turiciano, Mawicke & Goisman

WRCA is pleased to welcome Attorney Dave Turiciano as our speaker for our September meeting. With a practice focused in large part on construction and real estate matters, Attorney Turiciano focuses his presentations not on the law, but on the real-world application of the law. He talks not about court cases, but how to stay out of court by using good business practices, including a careful review of the people and companies you are doing business with. This lively presentation and discussion will show you ways to improve your business practices and, in the process, increase the likelihood that you will get paid for your work.

In addition, Attorney Turiciano will provide a review of recently passed legislation which affects contracts between roofers and "residential" customers. Learn how to avoid the traps and pitfalls of the new legislation and those contained in other regulations affecting business relationships with residential customers. Make sure you don't get surprised by the definition of residential and the costs associated with non-compliance.

At the end of the presentation, there will be time for your questions. They don't even have to be legal questions! Dave is more than willing to talk about contracts and collections, trolling for fish, the Roman Empire, Dungeons & Dragons, and anything else you can come up with....

Our location for the meeting is Milford Hills Hunt Club, a 400 acres hunt club located in Johnson Creek. The setting and the dedicated and experienced team of professionals will make this a top-quality event!
